

Greetings from the San Francisco Health Network!

Your doctor is sending you a colon cancer screening test this month. The test can be done at home.

- Colon cancer is a growth that occurs in the large intestine. One in 20 people get colon cancer. Colon cancer is the second leading cause of cancer deaths in the United States.
- A yearly stool test can help detect growths in the large intestine and can also detect cancer when it is treatable.

If you believe that you are up to date with colon cancer screening please call the number below.

San Francisco
Health Network

SAN FRANCISCO DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Phone: 415-206-8231

San Francisco
Health Network

SAN FRANCISCO DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Cancer Outreach Initiative
San Francisco General Hospital
1001 Potrero Avenue,
Bldg. 40 Rm 4102
San Francisco, CA 94110

PLEASE
PLACE
STAMP
HERE

Return Service Requested

